

2025 Page Spring Seminar

Marjorie Powell
Chief Human Resources Officer and Senior Vice President
AARP

Marjorie Powell is a dedicated people strategist and leader, driving others towards excellence with over 25 years of experience in multiple HR disciplines.

She has extensive background in Organization Development, Executive Compensation, Talent Management, Learning and Change Management, Organizational Strategy, and Leadership Development from senior and executive roles at universities and large nonprofits. Her career includes leadership roles at Michigan State, Wayne State, Georgetown University, University of Maryland in Baltimore, National Public Radio, Inc., and AARP.

Marjorie excels at engaging with individuals, nurturing teamwork, and devising creative strategies for cultural transformation. Known as an adept leader and advisor, Marjorie has a reputation for enhancing HR roles to build effective organizations that boost revenue, improve operational efficiency, employee commitment, and productivity in the workplace.

Marjorie earned her undergraduate degree in Sociology at Boston University and received her Juris Doctorate from The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law.

Marjorie spends her free time engrossed in books and documentaries, committed to self-improvement. She participates in community service, enjoys theater, appreciates various music and art forms, plays golf, and loves traveling.